Additions and Corrections.

The following additions and corrections are published in order to complete the Record of deaths. The compilation of the list has been a laborious task, but since it makes a most valuable link in the permanent history of the county, we feel requited for the work bestowed upon it. We hope it is complete, for the figures show a fearful contribution of lives from this small county, and the list proves a fact we have always maintained, viz: that in proportion, Champaign gave more of her bone and sinew to the country in the time of peril, than any other county in the State.
